

Safety Scenario, Mountain Bike

Gail’s friends want to go for a ride on their mountain bikes around the neighbourhood trail. Gail is a very experienced rider and travels the trails quite often. Her parents always go with her and ensure that they stay on the trail routes and roadways. When they go as a family they never go off track into undiscovered territory.

In order to get across to the trail they have two options: cross the four lane country highway or take the long route on the overpass. Gail decides not to go with her friends and they continue on to the trail by crossing the country highway.

Then, she has a change of heart and decides to join her friends. But, if she does not leave now, she will not catch up with her friends. She has never crossed the highway before, but she takes a chance and rides across anyhow.
