The Perfect Resources for Ontario Road Safety

00:00:00 - 00:00:17

[Animation: A roadway with a sidewalk and a community behind it is shown. Several children and adults pass by using different modes of transportation. The scene changes to show a blue backdrop with a computer, tablet and cell phone all showing the Ontario Road Safety website homepage.]

A father is shown holding the tablet with his family surrounding him. They are then joined by a variety of other community members and community building pop up in the background.]

Voiceover >> Whether you walk, bike, or drive, staying safe on the road is important to all of us. That's why we created the Ontario Road Safety Resource, so you can integrate these safety measures into your classroom, school community, and even your home.

00:00:17 - 00:00:33

[Video: An image of a cartoon computer screen pops up and shows the Ontario Road Safety website homepage and zooms in on the top of the shot to show how the resources are segmented. Five symbols then appear to represent the variety of information in the resource. The home screen, screenshot reappears, and the website is scrolled through and the cursor clicks on the "Community Engagement Kits" Symbol. The user continues to scroll through the website]

Voiceover >>The resource is segmented by grade division, offering a variety of activities and lesson plans, covering a wide range of road safety topics to suit your needs. It's easy to tailor these lesson plans to any subject, while still achieving curriculum expectations.

00:00:33 - 00:00:45

[Animation: A girl sitting on a bike is holding a cell phone with the website. The image zooms out to show her on a sidewalk, putting her helmet on, and then beginning to cycle. She is joined by many other children and young adults either walking, cycling, rollerblading or using a scooter. The last person has a flag attached to their bike that says, "Be safe". A school bus follows behind them.]

Voiceover >> Use this resource to equip young people with the knowledge they need to be independent, informed and safe on our roads. Visit OntarioRoadSafety.ca
